

Notice Board

The Notice Board seeks to publicise all matters relating to Sartre scholarship, most importantly publications, but also higher degrees (in progress or completed), forthcoming seminars and conferences. We are also pleased to publish conference reports and other Sartre news.

All information should be sent to:[/t]

John Gillespie, School of Languages and Literature, University of Ulster, Cromore Road, Coleraine, Co. Londonderry, UK; e-mail: J.Gillespie@ulster.ac.uk. His phone number is 00 44 28 70 324636.

INTERNET SITES

The UK Society for Sartre Studies website: <http://www.sartreuk.org>, has sections on News, New Publications, Bibliography, On-line Resources, Sartre Links, Conferences and Events, Sartre Studies International, the Sartre Centenary and other archive material. It aspires to being an important research resource and a primary port of call for all Sartre scholars and researchers.

The French Internet site <http://www.ges-sartre.fr> is the site of the Groupe d'Etudes Sartriennes (GES), based in Paris. It has sections on Etudes sartriennes, Sartre societies, conferences and other activities, news about Sartre studies, a bibliography of recent books, theses and articles, details of useful Internet links and an information exchange facility. Michel Rybalka also continues to maintain the site <http://www.jpsartre.org/>.

This edition of the Notice Board is chiefly concerned with catching up on our Sartre bibliography, but does include some items of Sartre-related news.

Simone de Beauvoir Society 16th International Conference

There was a conference to mark the centenary of Simone de Beauvoir's birth, 'The Legacies of Simone de Beauvoir', at the University of Northumbria, Newcastle upon Tyne, 13–15 June 2008. The keynote speakers were: Professor Elizabeth Fallaize, Oxford University, and Sonia Kruks, Danforth Professor of Politics, Oberlin College, USA.

The conference aimed to re-evaluate Simone de Beauvoir's contribution to twentieth-century fiction, autobiography, philosophy and politics. Her influence as a major intellectual figure in the history of post-war France was considered, as well as Beauvoir's legacies in terms of her influence on subsequent generations of writers and critics, both in France and internationally. Questions of reception, dissemination and translation of Beauvoir's oeuvre were addressed, particularly in the light of recent publications.

Groupe d'Etudes sartriennes

The Annual Conference of the Groupe d'Etudes sartriennes will take place in Paris on 20 and 21 June 2008 at Paris IV – Sorbonne in the Amphithéâtre Michelet.

SARTRE NEWS

Hazel E. Barnes

Dr Hazel E. Barnes, distinguished professor emerita of the University of Colorado, died at her home in Boulder surrounded by her many friends on 18 March 2008. She celebrated her ninety-second birthday in December of 2007.

Professor Barnes received her B.A. from Wilson College and her Ph.D. in Classics from Yale University in 1941. She received an honorary doctorate from Tulane University. She taught at Pierce College in Greece just after the Second World War from 1945 to 1948, a connection that was always important to her. She was a member of the Classics Department, the Humanities Programme and the Philosophy Department at the University of Colorado at Boulder. She served as chair of both Classics and Humanities. A seminar room in Hellems Hall is named for her. The Hazel Barnes Prize is the University's most prestigious faculty teaching and research award. Professor Barnes was for many years a member of the National Phi Beta Kappa Senate and a Phi Beta Kappa visiting scholar.

Professor Barnes translated Sartre's Being and Nothingness and Search for a Method. She introduced the American public to existentialism in a series of ten public television programmes broadcast in 1962, 'Self-Encounter: A Study in Existentialism'. Her books include The Meddling Gods, The University as the New Church, The Literature of Possibility: A Study in Humanistic Existentialism, Sartre, An Existentialist Ethics, Sartre and Flaubert, and her autobiography, The Story I Tell Myself. These, together with numerous articles and book chapters, make her America's best-known Sartre scholar.

Professor Barnes was a beloved teacher and mentor to many of America's Sartre scholars. She was an intellectual internationally admired for her rare combination of intense lucidity and deep humanity. She was much loved and will be greatly missed by her family and many friends and colleagues.

Professor Barnes was preceded in death last summer by her partner, Professor Doris Schwalbe. They enthusiastically and extensively travelled the world together. They also enjoyed a delightful cabin in the mountains. She is survived by her sister, Jean Newcomer, her brother, Paul Barnes, and her niece and nephews.
